Case study:

Josh is a 27 year old male who recently moved back in with his parents after his fiancée was killed by a drunk driver 3 months ago. His fiancée, a beautiful young woman he had been dating for the past 4 years, was walking across a busy intersedation to meet him for lunch one day. He still vividly remembers the horrific scene as the drunk driver ran the red light plowing down his fiancée right before his eyes. He raced to her side, embracing her crumpled body as she died in his arms in the middle of the crosswalk. No matter how hard he tries to forget, he frequently finds himself reliving the entire incident as if it was happening all over.

Since the accident, Josh has been plagued with nightmares about the accident almost every night. He had to quit his job because his office was located in the building right next to the little café where he was meeting his fiancée for lunch the day she died. The few times he attempted to return to work were unbearable for him. He has since avoided that entire area of town.

Normally an outgoing fun loving guy, Josh has become increasingly withdrawn, irritable since his fiancée's death. He's stopped working out, playing his guitar, or playing basketball with his friends – all activities he once really enjoyed. His parents were worried about how detached and emotionally flat he's become.

- Q.7 Read the above case carefully and as a psychology student, how will you try to reduce Josh's stress level so as to enable him to come back to his normal position. 10

PART-B

Case study:

Surviving Plant World's Hard Times

In ten years, Plant World had grown from a one-person venture into the largest nursery and landscaping business in its area. Its founder, Myta Ong, combined a lifelong interest in plants with a botany degree to provide a unique customer service. Ong had managed the company's growth so that even with twenty full-time employees working in six to eight crews, the organization culture was still as open, friendly, and personal as it had been when her only "employees" were friends who would volunteer to help her move a heavy tree.

To maintain that atmosphere, Ong involved herself increasingly with people and less with plants as the company grew. With hundreds of customers and scores of jobs at any one time, she could no longer say without hesitation whether she had a dozen arborvitae bushes in stock or when Mrs. Carnack's estate would need a new load of bark mulch. But she knew when Rose had been up all night with her baby, when Gary was likely to be late because he had driven to see his sick father over the weekend, and how to deal with Ellen when she was depressed because of her boyfriend's behavior. She kept track of the birthdays of every employee and even those of their children. She was up every morning by five-thirty arranging schedules so that John could get his son out of daycare at four o'clock and Martina could be back in town for her afternoon high school equivalency classes.

Paying all this attention to employees may have led Ong to make a single bad business decision that almost destroyed the company. She provided extensive landscaping to a new mall on credit, and when the mall never opened and its owners went bankrupt, Plant World found itself in deep trouble. The company had virtually no cash and had to pay off the bills for the mall plants, most of which were not even salvageable.

One Friday, Ong called a meeting with her employees and leveled with them: either they would not get paid for a month or Plant World would fold. The news hit the employees hard. Many counted on the Friday paycheck to buy groceries for the week. The local unemployment rate was low, however, and they knew they could find other jobs.

But as they looked around, they wondered whether they could ever find this kind of job. Sure, the pay was not the greatest, but the tears in the eyes of some workers were not over pay or personal hardship; they were for Ong, her dream, and her difficulties. They never thought of her as the boss or called her anything but "Myta." And leaving the group would not be just a matter of saying good-bye to fellow employees. If Bernice left, the company softball team would lose its best pitcher, and the Sunday game was the height of everyone's week. Where else would they find people who spent much of the weekend working on the best puns with which to assail one another on Monday morning? At how many offices would everyone show up twenty minutes before starting time just to catch up with friends on other crews? What other boss would really understand when you simply said, "I don't have a doctor's appointment, I just need the afternoon off"?

Ong gave her employees the weekend to think over their decision: whether to take their pay and look for another job or to dig into their savings and go on working. Knowing it would be hard for them to quit, she told them they did not have to face her on Monday; if they did not show up, she would send them their checks. But when she arrived at seven-forty Monday morning, she found the entire group already there, ready to work even harder to pull the company through. They were even trying to top one another with puns about being "mall-contents."

Q.6 Read the case study carefully given above and answers the following questions:

- a) How would you describe the organization culture at Plant World? 5
- b) How such a company should grow before it needs to change it's culture and structure? 5

Note: Attempt FIVE questions in all; Q.1 is compulsory. Attempt any TWO questions from Part-A and TWO questions from Part-B. Each question carries equal marks.

- Q.1 a) Suppose $u = \begin{bmatrix} 3 \\ 2 \end{bmatrix}$, $v = [1 \ 4 \ 5]$ and $m = uv$. Find out m and explain its order.
- b) If $y = \sum_{i=0}^n a_i x^i$, express it in general form of polynomial function. Also define its constant and linear functional form.
- c) If $y = f(x_1, x_2) = 3x_1^2 + x_1x_2 + 4x_2^2$, find out f_1 and f_2 .
- d) Explain product rule of integration with an example and find out $\int 3x^2 dx$.
- e) Define the set of 1st five prime numbers and find out A^C with given $A = \{7, 11\}$. 4×5

PART-A

- Q.2 a) For $A = \begin{bmatrix} 1 & 0 & 2 \\ 2 & -1 & 1 \\ -3 & 0 & 2 \end{bmatrix}$, $B = \begin{bmatrix} 1 & 0 \\ 1 & 1 \\ 0 & 2 \end{bmatrix}$, $C = \begin{bmatrix} 0 & 1 \\ 2 & 1 \\ 3 & 4 \end{bmatrix}$ 8

Verify that $A(B+C) = AB+AC$

- b) Find out B^{-1} given that $B = \begin{bmatrix} 4 & 1 & -1 \\ 0 & 3 & 2 \\ 3 & 0 & 7 \end{bmatrix}$ 12

- Q.3 a) Suppose that q is linearly related to p . Express this relationship in exact functional form with an arbitrary slope b and constant term a . Define which is/are variable(s) and parameter(s) here. 4
- b) If average revenue, $AR = 15 - Q$ and $MR = 3$, find out Q . 4
- c) Using suitable notations show the quadratic and cubic functions in mathematical form as well as their possible graphical shape. 4
- d) Find out marginal and average costs function, if total costs:
 $TC = 3Q^2 + 7Q + 12$ 4
- e) Find out $f''(2)$ if $y = f(x) = \frac{x}{1+x}$ 4

- Q.4 a) Find out $\frac{\partial y}{\partial x_1}$ and $\frac{\partial y}{\partial x_2}$ for $y = \frac{(5x_1 + 3)}{(x_2 - 2)}$ 5
- b) Find out f_x and f_y if $f(x, y) = \frac{x^2 - 1}{xy}$ 5
- c) Prove that standard CES production function is homogeneous of degree one. 5
- d) Prove the Euler's Theorem for function $f(x, y) = 3x^2y + 7xy^2$. 5

PART-B

- Q.5 a) Find the integral by substitution for $\int 8e^{2x+3} dx$. 5
b) Find the integration for $\int te^t dt$. 5
c) Evaluate the value of integral $\int_1^5 3x^2 dx$ 5
d) Find out $\int \frac{dx}{(x+1)(x+2)}$ by partial fraction method. 5
- Q.6 Suppose that a firm produces two commodities Q_1 and Q_2 and sells the same at `10 and `8 respectively. It costs of raw materials for Q_1 is `3 and that of Q_2 is `2. For the final output of Q_1 , it requires 3 hours of machine-time and 1 hour of labour-time while Q_2 requires 1 hour of machine-time and 2 hours of labour-time. The firm can sell as much as 35 units of Q_1 per week. Again, the weekly working capacity of machine is not more than 160 hours and highest labour-time available per week to firm is 120 hours
a) Using the above information, formulate a standard problem of LPP. 6
b) Determine its optimal solution for maximizing the profit of firm. 14
- Q.7 a) If $A = \{-3, 6, 10\}$ and $B = \{9, 2, 7, 4\}$, then explain why $A \cap B = \phi$. Find out $A \cup B$. 5
b) Using Venn diagram show union and intersection of any three sets A, B and C. 5
c) For the given sets: $A = \{4, 5, 6\}$, $B = \{3, 4, 6, 7\}$ and $C = \{2, 3, 6\}$ prove associative and distributive properties. 10

Q.1 Read the paragraph carefully and answer the following questions:

In the 16th century, an age of great marine and terrestrial exploration, Ferdinand Magellan led the first expedition to sail around the world. As a young Portuguese noble, he served the king of Portugal, but he became involved in the quagmire of political intrigue at court and lost the king's favor. After he was dismissed from service by the king of Portugal, he offered to serve the future Emperor Charles V of Spain.

A papal decree of 1493 had assigned all land in the New World west of 50 degrees W longitude to Spain and all the land east of that line to Portugal. Magellan offered to prove that the East Indies fell under Spanish authority. On September 20, 1519, Magellan set sail from Spain with five ships. More than a year later, one of these ships was exploring the topography of South America in search of a water route across the continent. This ship sank, but the remaining four ships searched along the southern peninsula of South America. Finally they found the passage they sought near 50 degrees S latitude. Magellan named this passage the Strait of All Saints, but today it is known as the Strait of Magellan.

One ship deserted while in this passage and returned to Spain, so fewer sailors were privileged to gaze at that first panorama of the Pacific Ocean. Those who remained crossed the meridian now known as the International Date Line in the early spring of 1521 after 98 days on the Pacific Ocean. During those long days at sea, many of Magellan's men died of starvation and disease.

Later, Magellan became involved in an insular conflict in the Philippines and was killed in a tribal battle. Only one ship and 17 sailors under the command of the Basque navigator Elcano survived to complete the westward journey to Spain and thus prove once and for all that the world is round, with no precipice at the edge.

- a) The 16th century was the age of great _____ exploration.
i) Cosmic ii) Mental iii) Land iv) Sea.
- b) One of Megallan is ships explored the _____ of South America for a passage across the continent.
i) Coastline ii) Mountain Range iii) Physical features iv) Islands
- c) The passage was found near 50 degrees south of _____.
i) Greenwich ii) Spain iii) The Equator iv) Portugal.

Q.4 Read the given essay carefully and writes the summary of it in 150-100 words.

THE PARIS CLIMATE ACCORD

The Paris Agreement (French: Accord de Paris), Paris climate accord or Paris climate agreement, is an agreement within the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) dealing with greenhouse gas emissions mitigation, adaptation and finance starting in the year 2020. The agreement was adopted by consensus on 12th December 2015. As of October 2017, 195 UNFCCC members have signed the agreement, and 169 have become party to it. The Agreement aims to respond to the global climate change threat by keeping a global temperature rise this century well below 2 degrees Celsius and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase even further to 1.5 degrees Celsius.

The architects of the Paris climate accord deliberately designed it to be supple, adaptable to the differing political and economic environments of the nearly 200 countries that signed it. The authors were mindful of its predecessor, the Kyoto Protocol, which was roundly rejected by the United States because it set binding emissions targets for wealthy countries while letting most developing nations, including China, off the hook.

But now, as forces within the Trump administration continue to debate whether to leave the Paris agreement, they face a far different calculus. The accord, agreed to in 2015, is largely nonbinding, imposing no serious legal restraints on the United States or any other nation. While that makes the treaty a less rigorous plan to fight global warming, it also means there are few compelling reasons to exit.

That flexible structure has given ammunition to those urging the Trump administration to stick with Paris, a group that includes Ivanka Trump, diplomats like Secretary of State Rex W. Tillerson, and hundreds of corporations. The United States, they argue, can stay within the Paris deal and adjust its domestic plans for cutting greenhouse gas emissions however it sees fit. Staying has little cost. Leaving, by contrast, could result in immense diplomatic blowback, send confusing signals to industry and deprive American diplomats of the ability- to influence future talks.

Q.1 Explain the following lines with reference to the context (ANY FOUR):

- a) Let him not stay long, in one city or town; more or less as the place deserveth, but not long; nay, when he stayeth in one city or town, let him change his lodging from one end and part of the town, to another; which is a great adamant of acquaintance. Let him sequester himself, from the company of his countrymen, and diet in such places, where there is good company of the nation where he travelleth.
- b) He that travelleth into a country, before he hath some entrance into the language, goeth to school, and not to travel. That young men travel under some tutor, or grave servant, I allow well; so that he be such a one that hath the language, and hath been in the country before; whereby he may be able to tell them what things are worthy to be seen, in the country where they go; what acquaintances they are to seek; what exercises, or discipline, the place yieldeth.
- c) Studies serve for delight, for ornament, and for ability. Their chief use for delight is in privateness and retiring; for ornament, is in discourse; and for ability, is in the judgment and disposition of business. For expert men can execute, and perhaps judge of particulars, one by one; but the general counsels, and the plots and marshalling of affairs, come best from those that are learned.
- d) Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested; that is, some books are to be read only in parts; others to be read, but not curiously; and some few to be read wholly, and with diligence and attention. Some books also may be read by deputy, and extracts made of them by others; but that would be only in the less important arguments, and the meaner sort of books, else distilled books are like common distilled waters, flashy things.
- e) CHILDREN love to listen to stories about their elders, when they were children; to stretch their imagination to the conception of a traditionary great-uncle or grandame, whom they never saw. It was in this spirit that my little ones crept about me the other evening to hear about their great-grandmother Field, who lived in a great house in Norfolk...
- f) I bore his death as I thought pretty well at first, but afterward it haunted and haunted me; and though I did not cry or take it to heart as some do, and as I think he would have done if I had died, yet I missed him all day long, and knew not till then how much I had loved him. I missed his kindness, and I missed his crossness, and wished him to be alive again, to be quarreling with him (for we quarreled sometimes), rather than not have him again, and was as uneasy without him, as he their poor uncle must have been when the doctor took off his limb.

Her ears of jet, and emerald eyes,
She saw; and purr'd applause,
Still had she gaz'd; but 'midst the tide,
Two angel forms were seen to glide.
- b) Fate wings with ev'ry wish th' afflictive dart,
Each gift of Nature, and each grace of Art,
With fatal heat impetuous courage glows,
With fatal sweetness elocution flows,
- c) Such was the scorn that fill'd the sage's mind,
Renew'd at every glance on human kind.
How just that scorn, ere yet thy voice declare,
Search every state, and canvass ev'ry prayer
- d) Nor cruel Tom, nor Susan heard.
A Fav'rite has no friend!
From hence, ye Beauties, undeceiv'd,
Know, one false step is ne'er retriev'd,
And be with caution bold.
- e) The Curefew tolls the knell of parting day,
The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea,
The plowman homeward plods his weary way,
And leaves the world to darkness and to me.
- f) Let hist'ry tell, where rival kings command,
And dubious title shakes the madd'd land,
When statutes glean the refuse of the sword,
How much more safe the vassal than the lord.
- g) What female heart can gold despise?
What cat's averse to fish?

Q.1 Explain the following passages with reference to the context (any four):

- a) And we are put on earth a little space,
That we may learn to bear the beams of love,
And these black bodies and this sun-burnt face
Is but a cloud, and like a shady grove.
- b) What the hammer? what the chain,
In what furnace was thy brain?
What the anvil? what dread grasp,
Dare its deadly terrors clasp!
- c) I wander thro' each charter'd street,
Near where the charter'd Thames does flow.
And mark in every face I meet
Marks of weakness, marks of woe.
- d) There sunk the greatest, nor the worst of men,
Whose spirit antithetically mixt
One moment of the mightiest, and again
On little objects with like firmness fixt,
Extreme in all things! hadst thou been betwixt,
Thy throne had still been thine, or never been;
For daring made thy rise as fall: thou seek'st
Even now to re-assume the imperial mien,
And shake again the world, the Thunderer of the scene!
- e) The armaments which thunder - strike the walls
Of rock-built cities, bidding nations quake,
And monarchs tremble in their capitals,
The oak leviathans, whose huge ribs make
Their clay creator the vain title take
Of lord of thee, and arbiter of war;
These are thy toys, and, as the snowy flake,
They melt into thy yeast of waves, which mar
Alike the Armada's pride, or spoils of Trafalgar.
- f) There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is rapture on the lonely shore,
There is society, where none intrudes,
By the deep Sea, and music in its roar:
I love not Man the less, but Nature more,
From these our interviews, in which I steal
From all I may be, or have been before,
To mingle with the Universe, and feel
What I can ne'er express, yet cannot all conceal.

(Questions 'a' to 'e' are the passages for explanation with reference to the context, whereas 'f' is a short answer question)
- a)the mind convicts itself in advance, when scoundrels are up to no good, plotting in the dark. Oh but I hate it more when a traitor, caught red-handed, tries to glorify his crimes.
 - b) —they take me away
in all my pain ... the road lies open, waiting.
Never again, the law forbids me to see the sacred eye of day. I am agony!
No tears for the destiny that's mine,
no loved one mourns my death
 - c) —Life is a husk. She left our home, and happiness went with her. Now pain is the tenant. Oh, to enter that wifeless house, to sense that awful emptiness, --- to eat that tasteless, joyless food—it makes it hard, I tell you.
 - d) Each man stand by his wife, each wife by her husband. Dance to the gods' glory, and thank them for the happy ending. And, from now on, please be, careful. Let's not make the same mistakes again.
 - e) Rage—Goddess, sing the rage of Peleus' son Achilles, murderous, doomed, that cost the Achaeans countless losses, hurling down to the House of Death so many sturdy souls,
great fighters' souls, but made their bodies carrion,

Q.1 Explain (any four) of the following with reference to the context:

- a) There is an evening coming in
Across the fields, one never seen before,
That lights no lamps.
Silken it seems at a distance, yet
When it is drawn up over the knees and breast,
It brings no comfort.
- b) Lie still as the sun. The boa-constrictor's coil
Is a fossil. Cage after cage seems empty, or Stinks of sleepers from the breathing straw.
It might be painted on a nursery wall.
- c) In the hallucination of the horror
He saw this shoe, with no sole, rain-sodden,
Lying on a moor.
And there was this garbage can, bottom rusted away,
A playing place for the wind, in a waste of puddles.
- d) Now as I was young and easy under the apple boughs
About the lilting house and happy as the grass was green,
The night above the dingle starry,
Time let me hail and climb
Golden in the heydays of his eyes,
- e) Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.
- f) If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is for ever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;

Q.7 Write a summary of the following paragraph:

Chronobiology might sound a little futuristic – like something from a science fiction novel, perhaps – but it's actually a field of study that concerns one of the oldest processes life on this planet has ever known: short-term rhythms of time and their effect on flora and fauna.

This can take many forms. Marine life, for example, is influenced by tidal patterns. Animals tend to be active or inactive depending on the position of the sun or moon. Numerous creatures, humans included, are largely diurnal – that is, they like to come out during the hours of sunlight. Nocturnal animals, such as bats and possums, prefer to forage by night. A third group is known as crepuscular: they thrive in the low-light of dawn and dusk and remain inactive at other hours.

When it comes to humans, chronobiologists are interested in what is known as the circadian rhythm. This is the complete cycle our bodies are naturally geared to undergo within the passage of a twenty-four hour day. Aside from sleeping at night and waking during the day, each cycle involves many other factors such as changes in blood pressure and body temperature. Not everyone has an identical circadian rhythm. 'Night people', for example, often describe how they find it very hard to operate during the morning, but become alert and focused by evening. This is a benign variation within circadian rhythms known as a chronotype.

Scientists have limited abilities to create durable modifications of chronobiological demands. Recent therapeutic developments for humans such as artificial light machines and melatonin administration can reset our circadian rhythms, for example, but our bodies can tell the difference and health suffers when we breach these natural rhythms for extended periods of time. Plants appear no more malleable in this respect; studies demonstrate that vegetables grown in season and ripened on the tree are far higher in essential nutrients than those grown in greenhouses and ripened by laser.

Knowledge of chronobiological patterns can have many pragmatic implications for our day-to-day lives. While contemporary living can sometimes appear to subjugate biology – after all, who needs circadian rhythms when we have caffeine pills, energy drinks, and shift work and cities that never sleep? – keeping in synch with our body clock is important.

Q.1 State whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE:

- Financial Management deals with two major decisions, namely investment and financial decisions.
- Time value of money signifies that the value of unit of money remains unchanged during different time periods.
- Interest rate and coupon rate are synonymous terms.
- Value of a bond is dependent solely on the interest payments it provides.
- For a bond, yield to maturity is always equal to coupon rate.
- A company's current ratio is 2.0. If it uses cash to pay creditors, this transaction would cause decrease in current ratio.
- CFAT will be deflated by inflation rate to determine real CFAT (cash flow after tax).
- The payback method measures a number of years required for the CFAT to payback the initial capital investment outlays, ignoring interest payments.
- Main objective of finance manager is to maximize profits.
- Liquidity ratio is the ability of a firm to satisfy its long-term obligations as they become due.

4x5

PART-A

- Q.2 a) "When I am faced with a financial decision my primary concern is whether or not the result of the action I take is in the wealth maximization." Discuss. 10
- b) How would an investor know what Rs 1,000;- received at the end of the next three years is worth to us given the appropriate rate or opportunity rate of 10%. 10
- Q.3 a) Calculate the net profit ratio from the following details:

	Rs.
1. Sales	4,10,000
2. Sales Return	10,000
3. Gross Profit	1,50,000
4. Office Expenses	15,000
5. Selling Expenses	26,000
6. Interest on Debentures	10,000
7. Loss by tire	24,000
8. Income from Investments	5,000

5

- b) Opening inventory Rs. 29,000; closing inventory Rs. 31,000; Sales Rs. 3,20,000; Gross profit ratio 25% of sales. Calculate:
- Inventory Turnover Ratio.
 - Average age of Inventory.
- c) From the following information prepare a common-size statement of Profit and Loss and give brief comments. 5

STATEMENT OF PROFIT AND LOSS

Particulars	2015	2016
Net Sales	15,00,000/-	20,00,000/-
Cost of goods sold	8,40,000/-	10,65,000/-
Operating Expenses	1,35,000/-	1,76,000/-
Non operating expenses (Interest)	1,20,000/-	1,20,000/-

- Q.4 a) Explain and illustrate with an example the yield to Maturity (YTM) on a bond. 10
 b) Face value of debt = Rs. 1,000; Annual Interest rate = 15%; Expected Interest rate = 12%; Maturity Period = 5 years. Calculate the value of debt. 10

PART-B

- Q.5 ABC Ltd is considering to purchase a machine. Two machines A and B are available. Machine A will cost Rs. 60,000 and has a life of 5 years. Machine B will cost Rs. 98,000 and has a life of 7 years. There will be no salvage value from any machine. The estimated cash flow before tax and depreciation. (CRBT) from the two machines are as follows:

Year	CFBT
	Machine A	Machine B
	Rs.	Rs.
1.	30,000	42,000
2.	24,000	35,600
3.	22,000	28,400
4.	20,000	21,200
5.	14,000	18,000
6.	-	17,000
7.	-	16,400

The company uses straight line depreciation method and tax rate is 50%. Which machine should be selected on the basis of payback period? 20

- Q.6 a) What are the pre-requisite of a successful public private partnership (PPPs) program? Discuss the basis types of PPP model. 10
 b) Write short notes on:
 i) Types of Project Contracts.
 ii) Format of a Feasibility Study Report. 10
- Q.7 a) What do you understand by the term merger? What are the gains from mergers? Discuss with suitable example. 10
 b) What is the concept of Economic value added (EVA)? Explain with the help of example. 10

MICROECONOMICS-II (BHE-203)

Time: 3 hrs.

Max Marks: 100

No. of pages: 2

Note: Attempt FIVE questions in all; Q.1 is compulsory. Attempt any TWO questions from Part A and TWO questions from Part B. Each question carries equal marks.

Q.1 Answer the following in brief.

- Define 'oligopoly'. Give an example.
- Why are price rigid under oligopoly?
- Find out the dominant strategy for player.

	Player 1	Player 2
	Move up	Move down
Move up	10, 5	15, 0
Move down	6, 8	10, 2

- Define 'Nash Equilibrium'.
- Define marginal product of a factor.
- Explain 'derived demand'.
- What is 'negotiated environment'?
- Give any two assumptions of the traditional theory of the firm.
- State the manager's utility function as proposed by Marris.
- What is value of marginal product?

2×10

PART-A

Q.2 Consider a duopoly facing the following market demand curve.

$$P = 30 - Q \quad \text{where } (Q = Q_1 + Q_2)$$

Assume that both firms operate under zero marginal cost of production on the basis of the above, answer the following:

- Find out the reaction curves of both the firm.
- Find out the cournot equilibrium outcome.
- Compare the cournot outcomes with competitive outcome.
- Compare the cournot outcome with collusive outcome.
- In a neatly labeled diagram, show the outcomes found above.
- Justify cournot equilibrium as nash equilibrium.

20

Q.3 a) Explain in detail, the 'Marginalist Controversy'.

15

b) Explain 'limit pricing' as postulated in Baim's Theory.

5

Q.4 a) 'In the modern firm, where ownership is divorced from management, managers set out to pursue goals other than profit maximization' Justify the statement using Baumols Theory.

12

b) What is price leadership? Explain in brief the different models of price leadership.

8

PART-B

Q.5 With reference to the behavioural model of Cyert and March, elaborate on the following:

- Firm as a coalition of groups with conflicting goals.
- Bounded rationality and satisficing behaviour.
- Means for resolution of the conflict.

20

Q.6 a) The following pay off matrix shown the product choice problem of two firms.

		Firm 2
		Crispy	Sweet
Firm 1	Crispy	-5, -5	10, 10
	Sweet	10, 10	-5, -5

Both firms have to make a choice about the nature of the product they are going to launch.

Answer the following:

- i) Interpret the pay-off matrix.
- ii) Has either of the firms got a dominant strategy?
- iii) Does the game have a nash equilibrium?
- iv) In the context of the game, highlight the role of signaling. 12

b) "Two completely rotational individuals might not cooperate, even if it appears that it is in their best interest to do so."

Justify the above statement by analyzing the following game of two room-mates who are deciding separately whether to contribute or not for a new T.V. set.

		Room-mate 2
		Contribute	Free ride
Room-mate 1	Contribute	32, 32	28, 35
	Free Ride	35, 28	30, 30

8

Q.7 a) Consider the market for apple pickers and answer the following questions.

- i) Show the determination of equilibrium wage rate using market forces of demand and supply.
- ii) Suppose there is a sudden immigration of apple pickers. How will this affect the equilibrium wage rate of apple pickers?
- iii) How will the change in the equilibrium wage affect the apple firms decisions of luring apple pickers?
- iv) What will be the consequent impact on value of marginal product of labour? (VMP_L) (i.e., VMP of apple pickers). 12

b) Write short notes on:

- i) Monopolistic exploration of labour.
- ii) Role of trade unions and collective bargaining. 4×2

Q.1 Fill in the blanks:

- a) The difference between the values of the first and the third quartiles is _____.
- b) The expression of the standard deviation as percentage of the mean is the _____.
- c) The distribution which deals only in successes and failures is referred to as _____.
- d) A _____ variable is a variable that assumes different values according to the result of an experiment.
- e) If two events are not affected by each other, the two events are said to be _____.
- f) If $\bar{X} = 50$, $Md = 45$ then find the value of mode.
- g) Define tabulation.
- h) Differentiate between diagrams and graphs.
- i) What do you understand by conditional probability?
- j) What is meant by chronological classification? 2×10

PART-A

Q.2 Differentiate between primary and secondary data methods of data collection. Discuss various methods of primary data collection indicating merits and demerits of each of them.

20

Q.3 a) Draw a histogram, frequency polygon and frequency curve representing the following figures:

Years	No. of Employees	Years	No. of Employees
0-5	5	20-25	32
5-10	12	25-30	6
10-15	25	30-35	1
15-20	48

b) Draw less than and more than ogive for this given data:

800-900	21
900-1000	29
1000-1100	19
1100-1200	39
1200-1300	43
1300-1400	94
1400-1500	107

10×2

Q.4 a) Find mean, median, mode, P_{65} and D_7 for this following data:

Salary (000'₹)	3-5	5-8	8-10	10-15	15-20	20-30	30-50
No. of persons	10	25	52	173	108	36	16

b) The index numbers of prices of cotton and coal shares in 2014 are as under:

Cotton:	188	178	173	164	172	184	184	185	211	217
Coal:	131	130	130	129	129	120	127	127	130	137

Q.5 a) The contents of hens I, II and III are as follows:

1 white, 2 black and 3 red balls: 2 white, 1 black and 1 red balls and 4 white, 5 black and 3 red balls.

One hen is chosen at random and two balls drawn. They happen to be white and red. What is the probability that they came from hens I, II, III? 10

- b) A committee of four has to be formed from 3 economists, 4 engineers, 2 statisticians and 1 doctor:
- What is the probability that each of the four professions is represented on the committee?
 - What is the probability that the committee consists of the doctor and at least one economist? $2\frac{1}{2} \times 2$
- c) Three group of children contain respectively 3 girls and 1 boy; 2 girls and 2 boys; 1 girl and 3 boys. One child is selected at random from each group. What is the probability that the three selected consists of 1 girl and 2 boys? 5

- Q.6 a) If 5% of the electric bulbs manufactured by a company are defective. Find the probability that in a sample of 100 bulbs.
- None is defective.
 - 5 bulbs will be defective. (Given $e^{-5} = .007$) 10

- b) Fit a binomial distribution for the following data:

x	0	1	2	3	4
f	28	62	46	10	4

10

- Q.7 a) The hourly wages of 1,000 workmen are normally distributed around a mean of ₹ 70 and with a standard deviation of ₹ 5. Estimate the number of workers whose hourly wages will be:
- Between 69 and 72.
 - More than ₹ 75.
 - Less than 63. 10
- b) Define probability in terms of both classical and empirical approach. Also explain different types of 'Events' 10

Q.1 Answer the following question:

- If $Q_3 = 30$, $Q_2 = 20$, $Med = 25$, Calculate coefficient of skewness.
- Interpret 'r' in the following cases when $r = +0.97$, $r = -0.04$, $r = +1$, $r = -1$.
- What is meant by correlation between two variables?
- What is meant by simple regression model?
- Given that $\sum p_1q_1 = 250$, $\sum p_0q_0 = 150$, Paasche's index number = 150 and Dorbish - Bowley's index number = 145. Find out Fisher's ideal index number.
- What is time series data?
- What are the various methods of collecting primary data?
- What is χ^2 test?
- What is F-test?
- What are type I and type II errors in tests of hypothesis?

2×10

PART-A

- Q.2 a) What is skewness? Discuss various measures of skewness in detail.
b) From the following data of age of employees, calculate Karl Pearson's coefficient of skewness and interpret the result:

Age (years)	25	30	35	40	45	50	55
No. of employees	8	20	40	65	80	92	100

10×2

- Q.3 a) Formulate the coefficient of correlation between two variables. What is the range of correlation?
b) Two ladies were asked to rank 7 different types of lipsticks. The ranks given by them are as follows:

Lipsticks:	A	B	C	D	E	F	G
Neelu:	2	1	4	3	5	7	6
Neena:	1	3	2	4	5	6	7

Calculate Spearman's rank correlation coefficient.

Q.6 What do you understand by probability and non-probability sampling design? Explain different types of probability and non-probability samples. 20

Q.7 In an antimalarial campaign in a certain area, quinine was administered to 1,624 persons out of a total population of 6,496. The number of fever cases is shown below:

Treatment	Fever	No Fever	Total
Quinine	40	1584	1624
No Quinine	440	4432	4872
Total	480	6016	6496

Discuss usefulness of quinine in checking malaria. (given that $(\nu = 1, \chi^2_{0.05} = 3.84)$)

MICRO ECONOMICS EXTENSIONS AND APPLICATIONS (BHE-304)

Time: 3 hrs.

Max Marks: 100

No. of pages: 2

Note: Attempt FIVE questions in all; Q.1 is compulsory. Attempt any TWO questions from PART-A and TWO questions from PART-B. Each question carries equal marks.

Q.1 Fill in the blanks:

- a) If the utility fn is given as $u = x_1 + x_2$, then x_1 and x_2 are _____. 2
- b) The condition for consumers equilibrium under indifference curve approach is _____. 2
- c) If $u = x^a y^b$ and the income and price are M, P_x and P_y respectively, then at equilibrium $x^* =$ _____ and $y^* =$ _____. 4
- d) If $u = x^2 y^2$ then $MRS_{XY} =$ _____. 2
- e) In ordinal approach of consumer theory, the point of utmost satisfaction or satiety is called _____. 2
- f) One example of negative externality is _____. 2
- g) If a person's endowments are (w_1, w_2) and gross demands are (x_1, x_2) , then net demand is given by _____. 2
- h) One reasons for market failure is _____. 2
- i) If the rate of interest is 10% and perpetuity pays by an individual ₹1000/- each year forever, then its present value is _____. 2

PART-A

- Q.2 a) Suppose a consumer consumes two goods x_1 and x_2 . The prices of the goods are P_1 and P_2 . If his income is M and the utility fn is given by $u = \min\{x_1, x_2\}$ then find the optimal bundle. Represent optimization in a well labeled diagram. 15
- b) Using the demand functions found above, find the demand for x_1 and x_2 , if the prices of the goods are ₹2 and ₹3 respectively and the income is ₹100. 5

- Q.3 a) For a normal good, explain the slusky partition of price effect into income and substitution effects. How is the slusky partition different from the Hicksian partition of price effects into income and substitution effects? 10
- b) State the principle of revealed preference and the two axioms of revealed preference. Using the same, justify if the consumer's choices given below are consistent or not:

Price	Bundle Chosen
(1, 3, 10)	(3, 1, 4)
(4, 3, 6)	(2, 5, 3)
(1, 1, 5)	(4, 4, 3)

- Q.4 a) Suppose that the demand function for a good is given as $x^* = 10 + \frac{M}{10P}$ where M is the money income of the consumer and P is the price of good x . Assume the initial income is ₹120 and price is ₹3. Assume further that the price of good X falls to ₹2. Calculate price effect, substitution effect and income effect. 12
- b) Explain the concepts of endowments, net demand and gross demands. Mark the same in a well labeled diagram. If a consumers net demand is (5, -3) and her endowment is (4, 4) find out her gross demand. 8

PART-B

- Q.5 a) What do you understand by risk and uncertainty? Given the following information, evaluate which of the following two projects (A & B) is more risky using:
- i) Expected value method.
 - ii) Standard deviation method.
- 10

State of Nature	Probability of State	Outcome (Project A)	Outcome (Project B)
Boom	0.25	600	800
Normal	0.50	500	500
Recession	0.25	400	200

- b) Explain the relationship between utility of expected wealth and expected utility of wealth for a risk loving, risk neutral and risk averse individual. 10
- Q.6 a) What is contract curve? Show that all points along the contract curve are pareto optimal (with the help of a neatly labeled diagram). In the context of general equilibrium analysis explain first welfare theorem. 15
- b) Write short notes on (any one):
- i) Edgeworth box.
 - ii) Social welfare functions.
 - iii) Tragedy of commons (free-rider issue). 5
- Q.7 a) What are externalities? Explain using examples. How do externalities lead to market failure? 10
- b) What are the key attributes of a public good? 5
 - c) Write a brief note on 'moral hazard problem'. 5

Note: Attempt FIVE questions in all; Q.1 is compulsory. Attempt ANY TWO questions from PART-A and TWO questions from PART-B. Each question carries equal marks.

Q.1 Answer the following questions:

- a) Find $\frac{\delta x_1}{\delta y}$ for function $y = \frac{2x_1 + x_2}{x_1 + x_2}$.
- b) Find dy if $y = 3x_1(2x_2 - 1)(x_3 + 5)$.
- c) Given $y = (u + 4)(3u + 2v)$, Find out f_u and f_v .
- d) If demand function is $Q = 100 - 2p$, find out its marginal and average functions. Also find out the value of p when elasticity of demand is perfectly elastic.
- e) Find out the extrema of function:
 $y = x^3 - 12x^2 + 36x + 8$.
- f) Find out $f^{(4)}$ if $y = 4x^4 - x^3 + 17x^2 - 13x - 1$.
- g) Find out $\frac{dy}{dt}$ from $y = t^3 \log t^2$.
- h) If $z = x^3 + 5xy - y^2$, find out d^2z .
- i) Solve the equation $\frac{dy}{dt} + 4y = 0$ with initial condition $y(0) = 1$.
- j) What is the present value of an annuity generating ₹10,000/- in a year for the next seven years, given the fixed interest rate of 8%. 2×10

PART-A

- Q.2
 - a) If average revenue $AR = 15 - Q$, find out marginal revenue. 2
 - b) Suppose the utility function takes the form $u = (x_1 + 2)^2(x_2 + 3)^3$ where u is utility, x_1 and x_2 are the two commodities. Find out marginal utility of each of the two commodities. Also find the MU_{x_1} , when 3 units of each commodity are consumed. 8
 - c) If $Z = f(x, y) = x^3 + 5xy - y^2$ find out f_{xx} , f_{yy} , f_{yx} and f_{xy} . 8
 - d) If $Q = f(L, K) = AL^\alpha K^\beta$, find out $L F_L + K F_K$. 2
- Q.3
 - a) Using a suitable diagram explain the importance of 1st and 2nd order derivatives to determine relative minimum point of a function $f(x)$. 8
 - b) Suppose the revenue and cost functions of a firm are $R = R(q)$ and $c = c(q)$. Using the 1st derivative test, prove the necessary condition for profit maximization. Also explain the sufficient condition for profit maximization using derivative. 6
 - c) Find out the relative maxima and minima of $y = -2x^2 + 8x + 25$. 6
- Q.4
 - a) Find $f^5(x=1)$, if $f(x) = a + bx^{-5}$. 5
 - b) Find out $f^{IV}(z)$, if $f(z) = 3a + 5b + 7z^4$. 5
 - c) Find out $f^I(y)$, if $f(y) = a^y - b^{-y}$. 5
 - d) Find out the concavity/convexity of isoquant function $q = \alpha K^\beta$ given that $\beta = 0.6$. 5

PART-B

- Q.5 a) Find the extreme values, if any, of the function $Z = 2x_1^2 + x_1 x_2 + 4x_2^2 + x_1 x_3 + x_3^2 + 2$. 8
- b) Check $Z = x_1^2 + x_2^2$ for concavity or convexity by the derivative conditions. 6
- c) Find the extremum of $Z = x y$ subject to $x + y = 6$. 6
- Q.6 a) Suppose the elasticity of demand is given by $E(p) = \frac{2p^2}{p^2 + 1}$ and $q = 4$ when $p = 1$. Find the demand function using differential equation. 6
- b) Solve the differential equation:

$$\frac{dy}{dt} = \frac{t^3 y^2}{\sqrt{1-t^4}}, \quad y(0) = 1.$$
 8
- c) Solve the equation $3y^2 dy - t dt = 0$. 6
- Q.7 a) Suppose the rate of interest is 7%. If the amount of ₹1000 has been borrowed for a year and the interest is to be paid at the start of the year, determine this amount and interpret the result. 6
- b) At the end of every year, Rachna puts ₹1000 in a saving account which pays 10% interest; she does it for eleven years. How much does she get at the end? 7
- c) A loan of ₹4500 at a rate 7.5% is paid off in 10 years by paying 10 equal installments at the end of every year. How much is each installment? 7

SECTION-A

Q.1 Attempt (any five) questions from the following:

- Who has written "Rime of the Ancient Mariner?" Why does the Wedding Guest fear the Mariner?
- In 'Frost at Midnight' the poet says that a life in Nature is better than life in a more urban environment? Do you agree with the statement? Explain.
- The poem Ode to the West wind ends with a question – "If Winter comes, can spring be far behind?" Explain the metaphorical interpretation of the question.
- Discuss three features of Wordsworth's poetry.
- In what way is the poetry of Wordsworth and Coleridge different? Explain.
- Discuss the theme of the poem "Ode to the Grecian Urn".
- Who is Lucy Gray and how does Wordsworth describe her in the poem "Lucy Gray"?
- What is an Ode? Discuss its features. 3x5

SECTION-B

Q.2 Answer (any five) of the following:

- Oft I had heard of Lucy Gray,
And, when I crossed the Wild,
I chanced to see at break of day
The solitary Child.
No mate, no comrade Lucy knew;
She dwelt on a wide Moor,
The sweetest Thing that ever grew
Beside a human door!
- O wild West Wind, thou breath of Autumn's being,
Thou, from whose unseen presence the leaves dead
Are driven, like ghosts from an enchanter fleeing,
Yellow, and black, and pale, and hectic red,
Pestilence-stricken multitudes:
- Day after day, day after day,
We stuck, nor breath nor motion;
As idle as a painted ship
Upon a painted ocean.
- With unclosed lids, already had I dreamt
Of my sweet birth-place, and the old church-tower,
Whose bells, the poor man's only music, rang
From morn to evening, all the hot Fair-day,
- Teach me half the gladness
That thy brain must know,
Such harmonious madness
From my lips would flow
The world should listen then, as I am listening now.
- Once again
Do I behold these steep and lofty cliffs?

That on a wild secluded scene impress
Thoughts of more deep seclusion; and connect
The landscape with the quiet of the sky.

- g) There was a time when meadow, grove, and stream,
The earth, and every common sight,
To me did seem
Apparelled in celestial light,
The glory and the freshness of a dream.
- h) Who hath not seen the oft amid thy store?
Sometimes whoever seeks abroad may find
Thee sitting careless on a granary floor,
Thy hair soft-lifted by the winnowing wind;

- This was after Gulliver had used his enormous size to reel in the enemy's ships. Because of his immense size and his ability to aid the king of Lilliput, he was given the highest honor.
 - But, scarce observed, the knowing and the bold,
Fall in the gen'ral massacre of gold.
 - "The want of which knowledge will ever produce many prejudices and certain narrowness of thinking, from which we and the politer countries of Europe are wholly exempted."
 - The Curfew tolls the knell of parting day,
The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea,
The plowman homeward plods his weary way,
And leaves the world to darkness and to me.
 - My little Friend Grildrig. . . . I cannot but conclude the Bulk of your Natives, to be the most pernicious Race of little odious Vermin that Nature ever suffered to crawl upon the Surface of the Earth
 - The needy traveler `serene and gay,
Walks the wild heath, and sings his toil away.
Does envy seize thee? Crusg th'upbraiding joy',
Increase his riches, and his peace destroy.
 - Such was the scorn that fill'd the sage's mind,
Renew'd at every glance on human kind.
How just that scorn, ere yet thy voice declare,
Search every state, and canvass ev'ry prayer.

- Tranquil is this hermitage, yet my are throbs,
What fulfillment can await me here?
 - Resentful to the fortune of the Pandavas, Prince Duryodhana journeyed sunk in gloomy thought, and his mind became evil.
 - Enough, therefore, of this dicing son, for gambling is found to be divisive. At a breach the kingdom perishes....
 - Though inlaid in duckweed the lotus glows:
A dusky spot enhances the moon's radiance;
This lissome girl is lovelier far dressed in bark.
 - O God who churns man's minds how is that your weapons claimed to be flowers, are so sharp?
 - Sure you be in your month, Yajnasena's daughter,
Or wear a lone cloth, or go without one,
You've been won at the game and been made a slave,
And one lechers with slaves as the fancy befalls!
 - Time is out of joint-their innocent daughter and daughter-in-law to be molested!
 - Her eyes red with anger look straight at me,
Her words flung out harsh, not smoothed into a draw!
Her lower lip like a ripe bimba-fruit
Is all quivering as it struck by an icy blast lower.

Q.4 Read the following paragraph and answers the questions.

The men of the seventeenth century who invented the modern scientific method had an advantage over their predecessors in a new mathematical technique. But, in addition to this technical advance, there was another advantage almost more important. Before their time, observation had been haphazard, and baseless traditions were accepted as if they were recorded facts. The laws which were invented to account for phenomena were not legitimate inferences from observation, but were infected by a belief that nature conformed to human tastes and hopes and fears. The heavenly bodies were supposed to move in circles or complications of circles, because the circle appealed aesthetic taste as the perfect figure. Pestilences and earthquakes were sent to punish sin. Refreshing rain was sent as the reward for virtue. Comets foretold the death of princes. Everything on earth and in the heaven had reference to man or to aesthetic tastes which closely resembled those of human beings the scientific temper abandoned this point of view.
