

Dr. L.Elango

Dr. L.Elango is a renowned hydrologist and professor with more than 30 years of experience. He is currently the Vice-President, International Association of Hydrological Sciences, and Vice-President, Indian Chapter - International Association of Hydrogeologists. He is Deputy Coordinator and Professor Centre with Potential of Excellence in Environmental Science, Anna University (Since 2004). He has been bestowed with Award for Excellence in Groundwater Science (2017) International Asso. of Hydrogeologists – Indian Chapter; Active Consultant Award (2017) Anna University, Chennai, India; and many more. His portfolio includes various positions: President- Association of Global Groundwater Scientists (2010-2015), Vice President- International Association of Hydrogeologists- Indian National Committee, President – Commission on Water Resources – Federation of Indian Geosciences Associations- (from 2015- till date); and many more. His Field of Research is Hydrogeology- Groundwater quality and groundwater modelling.