

Dr. Meghna Chhabra is an envisionist for promoting entrepreneurial spirits amongst students. She has been working with students for employability training and job placements. She has more than 10 years of experience in teaching. She is currently working on an Indian Council of Social Science and Research (ICSSR) project on the role of financial institutions on capacity building of women entrepreneurs. Her areas of interest include Personal Finance, International Financial Management, Security Analysis and Portfolio Management and Entrepreneurship Development.