

MANAV RACHNA UNIVERSITY

REPORT

ON

IP Awareness Session for the Faculty of Management and Commerce, Faculty of Applied Sciences and Faculty of Education

IPR Team, Manav Rachna University organized an IP Awareness Session on 'Law of Patent' for the Faculty of Management and Commerce, Faculty of Applied Sciences and Faculty of Education on 10th October 2019 with a view to enhance the awareness about protecting one's innovative ideas through Intellectual Property Rights among all the participants. The speaker of the session was Mr. Amit Kumar, Assistant Professor at Faculty of Law, Manav Rachna University.

He gave an opinion that IPR provides rewards and recognition to inventor/contributor for their research, designs, discoveries, inventions, etc. He shared his knowledge about types of Intellectual Properties recognised under TRIPs like copyright, trademarks, geographical indications, industrial designs, patents, integrated circuits and trade secrets.

He explains about different kinds of intellectual property right, patentable and non-patentable items, types of patent, scope of patent and patentability criteria.

He also explained about novelty and inventiveness of technology, inventive step or non-obviousness and stages from filing to grant of patent. He gave real example to understand important of patent and copyright.

The session was very interactive the speaker invoked a lot of queries in the audience leading to an informative and meaningful session for all the participants as each one of them got their well-justified answers.

Thanks, and Regards

IPR Team

