

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL STUDIES

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL STUDIES

The inception of the Department of Social and Political Studies was on October 1, 2020 and currently has 60+ students enrolled in its undergraduate (postgraduate and diploma) programmes. The structured, experiential academic learning aligns with NEP 2020 and they follow a UGC approved Choice Based Credit System model since 2020. The curriculum is multi-disciplinary and industry focused which also comprises E-learning through MOOCs and value added courses. Along with an experimental and practical curriculum, there is close quarter monitoring of student learning, skill development through MOOCs as well as special student mentoring for placement drives. The department has highly qualified faculty members having 120+ research papers in international and national refereed journals, along with relevant experience in other industries. The faculty members also work on various research national & international projects and consultancy assignments throughout the year and involve the students of DCOPS in these projects. This ensures that students get hands-on training on market oriented social science skills and gain relevant experience in the industry.
